RESUME

Jieqi Yan

Graduate student in Digital Education with teaching experience in English and early-childhood education.

Summary

I am a graduate student majoring in Digital Education at Xi'an Jiaotong – Liverpool University, with a bachelor's in Preschool Education. My teaching internships in English and early-childhood settings have shaped my interest in curriculum design, classroom practice, and home-school communication. I am keen to explore how digital tools and innovative teaching approaches can support both teaching and educational administration.
